

2013 Antoinette Brown Blackwell
Scholarship Winner
Emilie A. Scardilla

Emilie A. Scardilla is the recipient of the Antoinette Brown Blackwell Scholarship for 2013. She is a hardworking, intelligent young woman who is motivated to succeed.

Emilie is a student at Rush-Henrietta Senior High School. Her role as president of the National Honor Society and of the Tri-M Honor Society are indicative of her leadership skills and high academic achievement. She plays the violin and is concertmaster for the Symphonic Orchestra. She also sings with the Rush- Henrietta Singers.

She has shown a commitment to community service through her work with the Extended Day Program at Stonewood Village and as a volunteer at Pieter's Life Center.

Emilie Scardilla has been invited to participate in United States Senator Kirsten Gillibrand's Senate internship program this summer. In the fall she will attend Syracuse University. Her plans are to pursue a career in government, and she aspires to become a United States Diplomat.

The Antoinette Brown Blackwell Society wishes Emilie success as she endeavors to reach her goals.
